Race Across "Star
Spangled Channel"

Dover, Eng., Aug. 30.—(AP)—Otto Vierkoeten of Germany today swam the English Channel.

He landed at 2:15 o'clock this afternoon at Langdon Stairs, halfway between Dover and St. Margarets Bay from Cape Gris Nez, France, where he entered the water at 1:35 a. m.

The elapsed time of the swim, according to the figures, is 12 hours and 40 minutes or nearly two hours better than the record of 14 hours and 31 minutes established by Miss Gertrude Ederle.

"TRUDY" WANTS RACE

New York, Aug. 30.—(AP)—Cabling her congratulations to Otto Vierkoeten, latest conqueror of the English Channel, Gertrude Ederle today challenged the German record holder to a race across the channel next summer.

Her cablegram follows:

"Congratulations on your great swim. I hope I can race you across the channel next summer to bring the record back to my sex and my country. Good luck."

SEEK WOMEN'S RACE

New York, Aug. 30.—(AP)—The metropolis is looking forward to a 42 mile swimming race around Manhattan Island between the first two women to swim the "Star Spangled Channel," as the London-Sunday Herald now describes the turbulent strip of water between France and England.

Miss Gade, 27, who is Mrs. Clementine Corson, is easier to add defeat of Gertrude Ederle, 19, in a New York swim to her Saturday's achievement of swimming the English Channel. But she wouldn't swim the channel again for a million pounds.

Arch Selwyn, theatrical producer who is Mrs. Corson's manager, said he would issue a formal challenge, specifying that the race take place within thirty days.

Mrs. Corson swam around the island five years ago in 16 hours.

It "OK" With Trudy.

Dudley Field Malone, advisor to Miss Ederle, previously indicated he would consent to a race around Manhattan Island.

Mr. Selwyn also cabled Mrs. Corson in Dover asking if she would compete for a $25,000 prize offered by William Wrigley, Jr., for a 20 mile race to Catalina Island in January.

"I will swim for the Catalina Island purse, or any other contest you have arranged," was the answer.

The colony of men swimmers at Cape Gris Nez, France, is determined to go ahead with swimming plans. "We can't let the women do it all this year," explained Isahak Helmy, Egyptian, who plans to make his eighth channel attempt this week.

NIGHT MAIL PLANE PROVIDED
UNEXPECTED THRILL FOR A
BIG CROWD AT AURORA FAIR

Aurora, Ill., Aug. 30.—(AP)—A night air mail flyer winging his way from Chicago to Iowa gave a throng of 57,000 its greatest thrill at the Central State's Fair last night. Out of the dark from the east he came, a seeming great dragon, touring the sky. Huge eyes glowed as the monster roared over the multitude. It circled above the brightly illuminated grounds then streaked away with the speed of a comet. Thousands thought it was an act in the fair's night show. Most of them had never seen a night plane flying and did not know that it carried landing lights on either side.

The air mail route crosses the Central State's fair grounds. Immediately north of the grounds is an emergency landing field and one of the 25 mile beacon lights that guide the flyers on their way.

His First Jump

Harry Wilkes of Belvidere, an automobile salesman for an Elgin firm, suffered a broken leg Sunday afternoon while making a parachute drop for the National Air Circus, which performed and carried passengers during the day from the Dixon Flying Field, two miles east of the city on the Lincoln Highway.

Wilkes, a volunteer to make the parachute drop in the absence of the circus' regular stunt flier, who was unable to be present because of sickness, was making his first such leap, and he fractured the small bone in his left leg just above the ankle when he alighted on the top of a house. He was taken to the Dixon hospital where he will be confined for a short time, after which he will be taken to his home.

The aviators found what they regarded as a good reception in Dixon, two planes being kept busy during the day carrying passengers, and they announced that they hope to return to Dixon later in the season.

SPRINGFIELD'S

ROBBED TODAYThree Holdup Men Escape
With $3100
This Morning

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 30.—(AP)—A hot pursuit out of Springfield started shortly after 11 o'clock this morning when two men robbed the office of the Illinois Power Company of $3,100 and made a get away. The robbers drove a light blue roadster, with an Illinois license number 991-712.

The robber's roadster had been parked in front of the power company's office an hour before Cashier E. L. Sturtevant left the building with sacks of money containing receipts for Saturday and Sunday, accompanied by two other men, and got in a company automobile. The roadster blocked the way and the three men surrendered the money bags at the points of three revolvers.

Power company employees who witnessed the robbery followed the roadster south of Springfield, police reported. Automobiles carrying police and deputy sheriffs also joined in the pursuit.

Atty. Brewster, Taken
Ill on Trip, is Better

Attorney E. H. Brewster, who was taken suddenly ill in New York City about ten days ago, is making rapid recovery at his home. Mr. Brewster was in the midst of an eastern vacation motor trip and at New York was stricken with stomach trouble and hiccoughs. He was taken to a hospital at Jersey City, N. J., where he remained for a few days and then able to be brought to his home here.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Hettinger and son and wife of Eldora, Mo., have returned to their home after a pleasant visit at the home of Frank Hettinger and family.

BAKER ARGUMENTS
FOR CANCELLATION
OF DEBTS NOT NEWMellon's Friends Point Out
Situation; Make No
Direct Reply

Washington, Aug. 30.—(AP)—The opinion of Newton D. Baker, war time Secretary of War, that the United States should cancel debts owed by its allied and associated powers, found little reaction today in official circles of Washington.

In the absence of Secretary Mellon, treasury officials were disinclined to comment except to call attention to the statement issued by the Secretary prior to his departure. This statement, it was pointed out, was called forth by a plea for cancellation of the French obligations which had been met by the secretary's remark that "no other creditor of France has accorded such generous treatment" as has America.

Arguments Not New

The arguments propounded by former Secretary Baker, it was pointed out further, had been used repeatedly on the senate floor during the debates on the various settlements and had failed to effect modification of the Italian and other debt agreements.

After reviewing the entire subject of debts owed by foreign powers and particularly that owed by France, it was recalled that Secretary Mellon had said that in effect "America has cancelled the obligations of France for all advances during the war, and France, in the Mellon-Berenger agreement, has undertaken only to repay the advances and obligations subsequent to the armistice."

"The settlement of the French obligation," he continued, "has been made along somewhat different lines from the settlement of French obligations to Great Britain. With the British, banking advances and commercial obligations have been treated separately from the war debt proper."

Is Now Up to Congress.

"If, however, we compare the settlement of all of France's indebtedness to England with the settlement of her indebtedness to America, France has had generous treatment from us."

Before his departure, it was recalled, the secretary, who is chairman of the debt commission, had served notice that the commission had washed its hands of the French debt when it signed the agreement with Ambassador Berenger and that the matter now was entirely in the control of congress which had approved previous agreements entered into by the commission.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hettinger and Miss Lida Williams and Clarkson Thornby are driving to Monticello to visit relatives.

THREE DEAD
IN CHICAGO
GANG FRAYSEffort to Rob Car Barn
Foiled; Cavalier's
Comrade Killed

Chicago, Aug. 30.—(AP)—One robber was killed, a second was probably fatally injured and three detectives and an official of the Chicago Surface Lines were wounded last night in a gun fight between police and a group of robbers who attempted to seize the car barn.

A young woman of 20, expensively costumed and pretty, who had acted as chauffeur and "lookout" for the robbers, was captured under gunfire. Another girl companion and one of the robbers escaped. The police surrounded the car barn as the result of a "tip off" from a faithful employee of the Street Car Company who had been urged to join the robber band.

The dead hold-up man was identified as Joseph Della Verne, and his wounded companion was believed to be James Maloney. Among the wounded were Lieut. J. W. Norton, who received a scalp wound, and Robert J. McKinney, division superintendent of the car company.

Sweetheart of Victim

The young woman, a blonde, sweetheart of the slain robber, gave the name of Marie Vaughan. She said her woman companion was Marie Nolan and the robber who escaped, Ernest De La Verne.

The car barn shooting raised the Sunday record of slayings to three. Francesco Cappelli, comrade of the recently slain Antonio Scano, known as the Cavalier, was given a gangster's ride of death in Chicago Heights, a suburb. His body with four bullets in the back of the head was found beside a sedan in a ditch. Papers telling of Cappelli's activities in alcohol running were found on his body.

The third fatality was John J. McMullin, 73, who was beaten to death, presumably by robbers on the south side.

PLAN FUNERALHave Body Today in Private Services at Their Home

Havre De Grace, Md., Aug. 30.—(AP)—Gray haired mother and father were bidding farewell today to Commander John Rodgers, killed Friday in an airplane fall at the Philadelphia Navy Yard, while the nation waited to honor the hero of the San Francisco-Hawaiian flight tomorrow at Arlington National Cemetery. Simple rites were to be held this afternoon at the Rodgers home at Zion Hill.

The funeral services today were to be private.

Commander Rodgers' body has lain in the Rodgers parlor in a flag-draped casket since Saturday when it was brought from Philadelphia. Rear Admiral John A. Rodgers, retired, the dead hero's father, preserved his naval bearing despite his grief, to receive neighbors' messages of sympathy at the door.

The commander's 72 year old mother, who rushed to his bedside at Philadelphia when he called for her, but could not arrive before he died, was nearly overcome with grief. Tomorrow Commander Rodgers will be buried with military honors at Arlington.

CARLSTROM PLANS TO AID DEFENSE
OF PRIMARY LAWWill Assist Keller in Arguments in High Court
Review

News dispatches from Springfield state that Attorney General Oscar E. Carlstrom will put the weight of his office behind the legal defense of the Illinois direct primary law, which was declared unconstitutional by Judges Emerson, Edwards and Heer in the Lee county circuit court recently.

State's Attorney Mark C. Keller of Lee county has appealed to the attorney general for aid when the case goes before the state Supreme court in October on appeal. Carlstrom, it was learned yesterday, has assigned a staffman to aid Keller in the preparation of briefs and arguments.

Carlstrom, it is understood, has been prompted by more than the mere technicality which requires him, as attorney general, to defend all laws of Illinois as long as they remain on the books. While he has said little about his personal views of the direct primary as a political proposition, the attorney general is said to favor it against the old convention system.

Group of Army Officers
Challenges Power of the General

London, Aug. 30.—(AP)—A serious situation prevails in Spain. It is rumored that group of army officers has challenged the authority of Gen. Primo de Rivera, the dictator-prince, who has ruled since September, 1923, when he overthrew the government of the Marquis of Alhucemas.

No details of the situation have reached London, although it is indicated in dispatches coming from the Franco-Spanish frontier that the Spanish railways have been put under military guard and that three Spanish warships have sailed for Tangier, the international zone in northwest Morocco, which Spain recently has demanded should be given over entirely to Spanish rule.

Information coming out of Spain in recent months has indicated that a revolt against De Rivera's rule was afoot. As recently as Friday a dispatch from the Spanish frontier in France said that it has been learned that a change in the Spanish government was imminent at any moment.

In June the Spanish government in a statement announced that it had "utterly crushed" a revolt backed by advanced republicans and liberal elements said to have been headed by General Weyler, well known to Americans for the severity of his rule in Cuba after he was spent there in 1896 by the Spanish government.

With Host as Funeral is Held

New York, Aug. 30.—(AP)—Broadway, where Rudolph Valentino once worked as a dishwasher, today paid farewell tribute to the man who died at the height of his career as "sheik" of the movies.

The famous thoroughfare was lined with thousands as the funeral cortege moved to St. Malachy's Church in West 49th Street, two miles away.

Members of the police bomb squad and 253 regular policemen, including a mounted squad, patrolled the route.

Pola Negri, Polish actress who announced she was engaged to marry Valentino, and Jean Acker, the dead actor's first wife, who had said that she was reconciled to him just before his death, followed the body into the church.

Miss Negri, sobbing audibly was immediately behind the silver-bronze casket, behind her came Miss Acker and bringing up the rear of the little cortege of women were the representatives of Miss Winifred Hudnut, his second wife, and Mary Pickford.

Hush Fell on Crowd

As the casket, decked with flowers from the automobile load that followed the procession, was carried up the nave on the shoulders of eight pallbearers, a solemn hush fell upon the audience.

Those in the church stood with bowed heads.

Rev. Edward Leonard, officiating at the mass, marched slowly forward surrounded by his assistants and altar boys, lace covering their black surplices. The voices of an unseen sextette rose from the apse as Father Leonard sprinkled the casket with holy water.

A nurse and doctor in white smocks and aprons, stood by the entrance as Miss Negri and the group of seven women dressed in black entered the church.

The sobs of Miss Negri could be heard above the voices of the sextet.

The body was borne to the central altar above which a fresco of "The Nativity" was revealed by the mystic illumination of censers. The coffin was placed on the altar steps and the solemn high requiem mass was begun.

Farwell by Chum.

The Gounod Offertory "Ave Maria" was sung softly by Dimitri Onofret, tenor of the San Carlo opera company, and Massenet's Post Communion "Elegy" was sung by Guido Ciccini, with cello obligato.

Father Leonard then blessed the casket and the recessional "Tribulations" by Schweitzer was sung by the sextet.

Father Congedo, a boyhood chum of Valentino in Italy, then said his farewell to the actor. Chopin's "Marche Funebre" was played as the casket was carried from the church to be placed in Campbell's funeral church awaiting the arrival of Valentino's brother Alberto, who is on the sea, to decide the final burial place.

Eleven Pay Fines
Over the Week End

Justice J. O. Shaulls presided in the police court over the week end and his docket this morning recorded the following cases: Acll Wells, ten dollars and costs for speeding; Frank Sheeley, ten dollars and costs for intoxication; Earl Winebrenner, arrested on a charge of larceny, costs paid and case dismissed; Morris Blivis, ten dollars and costs, peddling without a city license; Jack Edwards, ten dollars and costs for being intoxicated; George Miller, George Bries, C. A. Evans, John A. Logan, Mrs. Lillian Stolta, Mary Smith, three dollars and costs each on charges of disturbing the peace. Elwood Heatherington, arrested Saturday night on complaint of Albert Thompson for disturbing the peace, secured a change of venue from Justice J. O. Shaulls court to Justice Grover W. Gehant where the case is being tried today.

Double Funeral Held
for Tragedy Victims

Double funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at Shabbona Grove, DeKalb County, for Mr. and Mrs. George Kunkle, whose tragic deaths last Tuesday, when the husband shot his wife in a fit of jealousy and then turned the gun on himself, orphaned two small girls. The bodies were buried in the Johnson Grove cemetery southeast of Waterman.

Hook Up in Double
Header This P. M.

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 30.—(AP)—Crowds early today besieged the downtown ticket office for tickets to the double header this afternoon in the "crucial series" between the St. Louis Cardinals and the Pittsburgh Pirates. One hundred were in line by 6:30 a. m. Three hours later the line was two blocks long. About 400 were in line when the gates at the baseball park opened at 11 a. m.

Pitchers were announced as Rhem Fitchers for the Cardinals and Kremer and either Meadows or Song, or for the Pirates.

If the Cardinals win two today and Cincinnati loses to Chicago, St. Louis will be in first place. If Cincinnati also wins, there will be a tie for first. Breaking even will leave the Cardinals in third place, if Cincinnati wins, but will give them a tie for second if Cincinnati loses and leaves them eight points behind the Pirates.

Despite rainy weather, yesterday's paid attendance was 35,987, the second largest in the history of St. Louis baseball. Receipts were about $40,000.

Pittsburgh scored one run in the first inning when Waner tripled and came home on Rhyme's single.

Entrance Ages for Children are Fixed

"Superintendent I. B. Potter of the Dixon public school system today issued an order concerning the age of students and requirements upon entering school this fall. In order for a child to be entered in the first grade, he must be six years of age, or, if he is not yet six but will be by the first day of January, 1927, he will be entitled to enter in the first grade. The same regulation will hold for the entrance into kindergarten. If the child is five years old or will be by the first of January, he will be allowed to enter the kindergarten. It is necessary to hold fast to this regulation for thorough experience it has been proven that children who enter younger than this have not been able to carry the work satisfactorily.

A. R. Rutt, Palmyra
Pioneer, is Dead

A. R. Rutt, a resident of Palmyra for the past sixty years, passed away at his home in Prairieville at 11:40 Saturday night. He had been an invalid for the thirty-four years and was bedfast for four years.

Funeral services will be held at the home Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, the services being in charge of Rev. E. C. Harris of St. John's Lutheran church at Sterling. It is requested that no flowers be sent. The obituary will be published in the Telegraph later.

COUNTRY CLUB SATURDAY EVE

Golf accessories valued at about $800 were stolen from the supply room in the caddy house at the Dixon Country Club some time during Saturday night. It was reported early yesterday. Deputy Sheriff Fred Richardson and Officer Richard Pomeroy started an investigation at once. A window in the caddy house had apparently been jimmied and the entire supply of golf balls, clubs and bags removed. All of the stolen articles were the personal property of Jack

HUSBAND AND

Fashionable District
Thought Cleared

Mrs. Charles E. Ladd of Rochelle, wife of a commercial traveler of that city, has been held to the Ogle county grand jury under bonds of $1,500 on charges of larceny, following the arrest Saturday of her husband, herself and their 19-year-old daughter Violet, the charges against the husband and daughter being dismissed following an examination, which it is thought has solved the mystery surrounding the recent series of robberies in Rochelle's most fashionable residence district.

The trio were taken in custody Saturday afternoon after private operatives from a detective agency of Rochelle had found nearly $1,500 worth of stolen diamonds, jewelry, costly cut glass, dresses, china, and a quantity of linen hidden in the Ladd apartment.

The stolen loot was found when detectives who had been employed by Miss Louisa May, a wealthy Rochelle woman, secured a search warrant and entered the apartment where the Ladds lived, with Rochelle officers.

The costly loot, much of which has been taken from the home of Miss May, which was upstairs over the Ladds, was found in trunks and boxes in the Ladd place.

May Home Stripped

Miss May is the owner of the house in which the Ladds live. The latter lived on the ground floor and Miss May has the upstairs apartments. The home is one of Rochelle's finest and is located in the most exclusive residential section of the town. Recently Miss May left Rochelle for an extended summer vacation.

When she returned last week she found much of her silverware, jewelry, linen, and clothes gone. Her apartment had been ransacked. The robbery was reported to the Rochelle police and private detectives were immediately employed to investigate.

Search Ladd Apartment.

Operatives got their first clue when they found some of the stolen goods secreted in the basement of the house where the Ladds and Miss May reside. The search of the Ladd place followed.

Much of the loot recovered was identified by other Rochelle residents whose homes have been entered recently.

When the officers entered the house they found Mrs. Ladd and her daughter there. Ladd was arrested later when he returned to Rochelle from out-of-town. The trio were taken to Oregon where they were questioned by Sheriff S. W. Dodson of Ogle county.

Mrs. Ladd at first disclaimed all knowledge of the thefts but stated later that she would "take her part of the blame if it would help any."

Ladd swore he was innocent. He declared that he has been away from home the greater part of the time recently and has no knowledge of the robberies.

Mr. and Mrs. James Scanlan entertained with a five o'clock dinner Saturday evening in honor of Miss Helen Henderick of Portland, Ore., and Miss Emma Vaughan of this city.

Calvin, pro at the club, who estimates his loss at about $800, with no insurance.

The supply room is located in one section of the caddy house and the officers making the investigation were of the opinion that the thieves were well acquainted with the building. The loot consisted of ten dozen golf balls, six new golf bags, about 50 clubs of various kinds and practically all of the tools used in the repair of clubs.

Accepted by a posse on a road between Albion and Marshall, Michigan. One Russell Andrews, Detroit gunman, was captured when he attempted to flee with his companions. The others were surrounded in the swamp and two of them captured last night after a pistol battle when they ventured out of their trap. One was shot and seriously wounded.

A fourth convict was captured afoot near Kalamazoo yesterday.

A WOMAN'S DAY ABROAD

BY ALLENE SUMNER

Rome, Italy—When in Rome doing as the Romans do, one eats as the Romans eat.

First of all, let me stress that all eating, with the possible exception of breakfast, is taken much more seriously than at home. We foreigners are much wondered at for our little dallying over the dinner table, which, to the European, is the evening's pastime!

And, by the same token, we receive ridicule if we dare to poke our heads outside our own chamber for the morning coffee or chocolate.

Having a native dislike to breakfast thus, Pansy Herring-for-short and I attracted an entire host of servants who came to stand and gaze as we drank our cafe au lait in a hotel lobby in old Avignon.

The proprietor had done his best for the honor of his hostelry. But we were not dissuaded. We were free-born spirits who would take our breakfast where we pleased, even though he insisted that it would be served on a silver tray to our room, "gratis."

And when to this effrontery we added the peculiarity of insisting on oranges for breakfast and butter on our rolls, the wide-eyed servants contained themselves no longer and broke forth into voluble expressions of amazement at these strange specimens from across the seas!

One is forced to deduce that to eat breakfast in public is almost to the European what the little process of abluting and dressing in public would be at home!

And the breakfast can only be "coffee," "tea" or "chocolate," the latter being about the only of the three liquids fit to drink. The ordering of any one of the three brings the automatic accompaniment of hard rolls and, perhaps, butter which is served, at this meal only, to be spread on bread and not as an appetizer.

At some pensions one can order a pot of jam, for which one pays an ample price, and which is carefully marked with one's room number and served each morning until consumed.

But if breakfast is an overlooked meal to the European, not so the others. Lunch is less of an extravagance than dinner. It omits soup and salad, but has its entree of omelette, spaghetti or fish, before the actual part of four of meat, potato and vegetable is served.

The cheese course is as much of a luncheon rite as the coffee and grapefruit is our home breakfast rite.

The maid brings in a huge tray or board containing at least one slice of a dozen variety of cheeses, made from cow, goat, sheep and even donkey milk.

And continental eating by no means ends with lunch and dinner. From early morning on, the open air street cafes are crowded with men, women and children drinking their beer or wine or cognac to the munching of cakes, sandwiches and a sort of doughnut.

The most devout prohibitionist could not help being impressed by the result of this wholesale and chronic drinking. I have not seen one drunken person in Europe. One cannot help liking the simple sociability of the people over their glasses, women with children in their arms drinking their foaming beer together and busily gossiping away. Old cronies knocking glasses together and beaming in the simple joy of human companionship.

Dinner is the evening's job. It is not even served in most restaurants or hotel until dusk has fallen and the day's work is over.

And don't think that you can pop into a European restaurant at any old time and get a meal. All meals are served in their due season, and if you miss lunch at luncheon time you must content yourself with a drink or ice cream until dinner time. And if you miss dinner at the appointed time, there is nothing for you in the way of real food until the next noon.

The tea rooms, however, are fearful and wonderful things. No salads and sandwiches such as ours hold at home, but marvelous gooey pastries which the customer selects from the counter, and ice creams of a dozen flavors.

The "dip" or "sundae" does not seem to thrive in France. There they serve several ice creams together. But in Italy a "gelati" costing about 10 cents contains all the syrups and fruits and nuts and candies and whipped creams known to man, it seems.

Old things are served in these tea rooms. Cool dew-drops white magnolia blooms, cupped by their leaves, holding ice cream; little wild strawberries from the woods mixed with ice cream and heaped into melon shells, or green grapes coated with candy and dipped in ice cream!

Left on hiking trip to Northwest—Eugene Vest and Holland Horton left Dixon Tuesday morning on a hiking trip to the northwest. Relatives have had word from them each day and the boys report a most enjoyable and inspiring trip. Word from Wisconsin towns were speedily followed by messages from small

One of the Most Charming Bridge Parties Saturday

One of the most enjoyable bridge luncheons of the summer was given Saturday at the Mainberg Tavern in Oregon by a group of young Dixon—Mrs. Royal Gitzsimmons, Mrs. Frank Gorham, Miss Ruth Carney and Miss Helen Gorham. There were guests for ten tables, from Sterling, Dixon, Rochelle and DeKalb.

The tables were beautifully decorated with garden flowers, pink and white perennials with ferns. The first favor at bridge was awarded to Mrs. Milo Stratton; the second to Mrs. James Palmer; the third to Mrs. Frank Bennett; and the consolation favor to Mrs. Herman Bittorf of Sterling.

A guest favor was presented to Miss Nina Hildebrand of Santa Monica, Calif., who is the guest of Mrs. Harriet Benson in this city. The entire afternoon was one of exceptional pleasure to all attending.

Birthday Anniversary Was Celebrated

The home of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Dyer of Amboy was the scene of a happy gathering Sunday evening, the occasion being the celebration of Mr. Dyer's 67th birthday. Many relatives were present, presented the guest of honor with a smoking set and enjoyed an evening of cards and music, refreshments also being served. Mr. and Mrs. Milo Cicchetti and son, and Mr. and Mrs. Alva Richard of Dixon were present, the ladies being daughters of Mr. Dyer.

TO ENTERTAIN WITH SILVER TEA

Mrs. J. M. Lund will entertain the members of Dixon Relief Corps and their guests, also the members of Dixon Post Grand Army of the Republic, with a Silver Tea at her home, 115 Fifth street, on Tuesday, Aug. 31st, at 2:30 o'clock. A delightful program has been prepared and refreshments will be served, the president expects many to accept Mrs. Lund's hospitality.

RETURN HOME AFTER VISIT AT MCGINNIS HOME

Miss Mary McLearn and Miss Mary Ford have returned to their homes in Providence, R. I., after a two weeks' visit with the latter's aunt, Mrs. Peter McGinnis of Route 5.

NEWS of the CHURCHES

THE FIRST METHODIST CHURCH
Albert W. Carlson, Minister.

The services yesterday were finely attended and the church auditorium and Sunday school rooms were filled. On a very hot morning and when so many people are away on their vacation means much interest in these Sunday morning hours of worship. It was a fine service. Dr. Carlson gave the sermon on "The Jesus of Experience" and showed by careful argument the preeminence of Jesus and his abiding contribution to the world.

He was the historic Jesus, but his life was given in showing, first, the moral example of Jesus; secondly, the religious example of Jesus, and the true revelation of God. In his powers he functions as the changing force in the stream of human life and consciousness. If Christ is the spiritual heart of God and his interest for the welfare of men, then God Himself is Christ-like in his interest for the human race. The permanency of this life is that it functions more powerfully today than ever. Newell Lundsten, the son of Rev. and Mrs. E. C. Lundsten, sang most beautifully and appealingly. It was well rendered and with excellent enunciation. His song was "Plains of Peace." We hope he can sing for this congregation again before going back to school this fall. The influence of this church will help make this community a place where God can live with man. He should live with us in our homes, our business, our pleasure, and such be for us the Lord of all.

Come and join with us. This may be your church.

Fourth quarterly conference and official board meeting tonight at 6:30 in the church dining room. All interested are requested to be present. Scramble supper at 6:30 followed by business meeting. All men and their wives are invited to be present. This is an open meeting and matters of unusual importance are to be brought to the attention of the church.

New Lutheran Church
Started at Galesburg

Galesburg—The cornerstone for the new $175,000 First Lutheran church was laid yesterday. Dr. Peter Peterson of Chicago, president of the Illinois Conference of the Lutheran Church, gave the dedication address.

JUNKING OF 1,900,000 CARS.

While the public idly asks when the saturation point in manufacture of automobiles will be reached, the manufacturer asks the same thing as a matter of life and death. He asks it in a scientific inquiry and goes about seeking a satisfactory answer. As a result of his inquiry he finds that approximately 1,900,000 machines will be junked this year. Age and accidents are taking a certain toll every year.

As the output has increased and sales have increased, there is a certain relation with the number of machines discarded as junk. Study of the situation has brought forth predictions, based upon "mortality" tables, that the number of junked machines will increase until 1930, when the figure will be approximately 2,900,000 or a million more than this year.

In view of these statistics, obtained for a definite purpose, manufacturers are not slowing down production because of approach to the point of saturation.

It appears that only a period of depression can halt the industry, and we are not sure of that. During the depression that began in 1920, the automobile industry forged ahead while others were stagnant.

FORTUNATE LABOR.

Before the war, the cost of building in general represented 44 percent for materials and 56 percent for labor. Both were cheap, by present standards.

In 1916 the cost was divided about equally.

Since the war there have been fluctuations, which have finally steadied down to figures which show a remarkable change. Last year the cost of the building materials average just about 40 percent of the entire cost of construction, and the labor, 60 percent.

Materials have fallen from their war-boom level, but labor has not. That is what the figures mean. Building labor, on the average, is still getting wages as high, or nearly as high, as it did at the time of universal high prices and scarce labor.

Thus, of all branches of labor in this country, building labor is the most prosperous, and it shows no sign of losing its fortunate position.

President Coolidge proposes farm relief by arrangement to loan the farmer $100,000,000 more money. What the farmer asks is a higher price for his products so he can pay back the money he already has borrowed. He wants to get out of the debtor class. The president's proposal undoubtedly is in good faith. He hopes the additional loans will allow the farmer to hold his grain through the period it usually is held by the speculator. If that will bring the farmer back to economic equality, that will be real farm relief.

This "Love Nest" Designed for Young or Old Couples

EVERY family, no matter how big it grows to be over a course of years, always starts out as two, and very frequently, when the children have grown up and left for homes of their own, it ends as two again. For the bride and groom or for the older couple left alone, this little four-room one-story house offers the utmost comfort with the greatest economy of space and money.

It may be built of stucco, shingles, clapboard or with beveled siding, as shown here. The house may be placed either way of the lot and may be entered by the open porch or a separate entry way.

The cozy, informal appearance is enhanced by the eaves running across the front of the house, the shutters painted in some pleasingly contrasting color, and the irresistible claim for vines and foliage to cover the lattice work over the porches.

The outside dimensions are twenty-eight feet by thirty-four without allowing for the porches. The expense of building it is to have the interior walls and ceilings of celotex which, besides furnishing insulation against heat and cold, is rigid. It has moreover a pleasing finish that may either be left plain or artistically decorated, thus eliminating the expense of plastering.

A still further cost cut may be effected by doing without a basement, adding a small room off the kitchen for the heating plant. It has been estimated that about fifteen per cent of the entire cost can be spared this way. Another thing, there are usually three grades of the various materials used in construction and one is fairly safe in choosing the second grade in such matters as fixtures and woodwork.

Special provision has been made for keeping this bungalow well ventilated and thus avoiding one of the pitfalls of building so small and low a house. Note the half-moon window above the entry way. As a further protection against the weather, the outer walls and roof, as well as the floor, should be sheathed with celotex.

While the total cost of building always depends upon the price of materials and labor in your own particular locality, it is evident that in this bungalow the figure is to a considerable extent in the hands of the builder.

ceiling height is nine feet.

There are four rooms inside—living room, kitchen and two bedrooms. The minimum hall space has been used. The main room has an open fireplace and convenient closet in the corner beside it.

The kitchen is well equipped and large enough to take a breakfast set. Meals may also be set on a gateleg table before the fireplace in the living room or served out on the porch in fine weather. This porch, by the way, might well be enclosed as a sunroom and used as an emergency sleeping room.

The bedrooms are well set off from the rest of the house and each has a good-sized closet and two windows. The bathroom is located so as to be equally accessible to either.

across my forehead and wondered if I was going mad.

I had come nearer loving Jerry Hathaway the night before as we had stood in that spring-scented garden, than I had been since I knew him. Ten I thought if he had asked me in so many words I would have given him my promise, but this morning I could not see myself married to him at all.

"I'll not worry you any longer, Mr. Hathaway," I said, with my eyes on the transmitter. I did not want to see either of the men whose pictures faces my mind had called up.

"Will you please tell Jerry to call me up at Mamie's. I'm going over there right away."

"Yes, I'll tell him, but, my dear girl, you must think that over. Gerald Hathaway is not to be lightly refused by any girl, provided his father favors his son's choice."

Remembering that Mr. Hathaway, Sr., had tentatively tried to make me feel that his son's attentions were purely without intention, I could not for the life of me refrain from asking:

"Are you intimating, Mr. Hathaway, that you approve of me as the wife for your son?"

"Come over to the office after luncheon and I will tell you—or better still, I'll meet you and Jerry at the Beaux Arts tonight for dinner and we'll celebrate your betrothal there."

Before I could tell him that I was not going with Jerry to the Beaux Arts he had rung off.

When I got to Mamie's and told her the whole story she said I had no business to tell Mr. Meredith that I would go with them when I had already made a date with Jerry.

London.—A police dog led to the capture of a man caught in the act of robbing a newly built home at Kingston recently. The dog was out for a walk with his master, a constable. He rushed into the house, growling angrily, and the constable followed and found the man.

FAGGED OUT

Hal Cochran's DAILY POEM

Well, the old vacation's over, and I'm on the job again. I've been a happy rover, like a million other men. With mind perhaps as free as any mind of any child, I've just been shirkin' work and, all in all, just runnin' wild.

Why, say, I planned this rest-up since about a year ago. There is no time like waiting time, that passes half as slow. You know just when you're leavin' and at last, when rest's begun, it's taken you just fifty weeks to earn two weeks of fun.

But, anyway, you get it, and you give your desk a slam. You walk out into nature and ya say, "Well, here I am." Ya turn yourself to swimmin' and to fishin' and the like. Your system takes a trimmin' as you take your daily hike.

Yes, two weeks sounded like a lot of time to spend at play, but suddenly your realize you're due at work to-day. Well, I have had my rest-up, and there isn't any doubt, it's too blamed bad it's over for I'm, frankly, all fagged out.

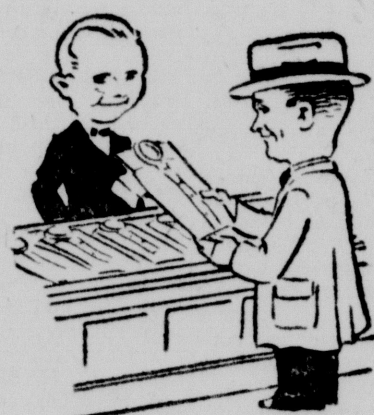

Prayer is not only the opportunity of the Christian, but his obligation. We talk with God. We walk not only in His presence and in His fear but in His companionship. We walk into His heart by prayer, and we stay in His heart by prayer, and we make our life vast by prayer. They pray without ceasing, who love without ceasing and serve without ceasing. Wherefore, my soul, pray—William A. Quayle.

Follow your honest convictions, and be strong.—Thackeray.

It must be possible intelligently to seek and to receive God's guidance, not only in crucial moments, but in all one's daily affairs, and to realize a sense of security and satisfaction otherwise unattainable. That which receives such heavenly guidance must be allied to the nature of divine Love; for evil or wrong thinking cannot be cognizant of spiritual direction, since it has no communication with good.—The Christian Science Monitor.

Lord, my times are in Thy hand: All my sanguine hopes have planned, To Thy wisdom I resign, And would mould my will to thine. —Josiah Conder.

Courage, brother! do not stumble. Though thy path be dark as night; There's a star to guide the humble, Trust in God and do the Right. —Norman MacLeod.

A STORY OF A GIRL & TODAY

WHAT ABOUT JERRY?

"But, Judy, aren't you going to marry Jerry?" asked Mr. Hathaway in a surprised voice.

I do not know why when Mr. Hathaway asked me that question that the sight of John Meredith should rise up in front of me, but it did.

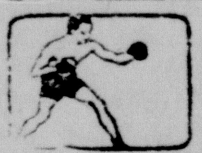

So plainly in my mind's eye was his image planted that I even caught myself painfully trying to smile back into those tortured eyes.

I must have been silent longer than I expected, for I found myself again listening to Mr. Hathaway, who was repeating his question.

I looked around quickly to see if the apparition my brain had called up was still standing by the mantel. It was not there and I answered with perfect honesty:

"I don't know."

Then such is the perversity of one's brain that the moment I spoke the words "I don't know" and the mouth of Jerry Hathaway arose suddenly before me. I drew my hand

EIGHT ERRORS BY BROWNS RESULTED IN SEVERE DEFEAT

Coupled With Timely Hitting They Gave Freeport the Game

Ragged support lost Sunday afternoon's game between the Dixon Browns and the Freeport Colored Giants to the visitors by a score of 14 to 3. The visitors put up a good entertainment and played consistent ball, but should not have scored the number of runs credited to them. The fifth, sixth and seventh innings saw three, four and six runs across the rubber for the Giants. In the seventh, the entire team faced the Brown's twirler. Two home runs, one double and three singles sent six scores over. "Buck" Lightner and Steve Skelton formed a good battery for Dixon, but the support was bad. The score:

Eight straight victories. That is the record of the Chicago Cubs. And to do it they had to defeat Cincinnati yesterday, one of the three pennant contenders.

Grover Alexander, Cardinal hurler, cost St. Louis just $4,000 waiver price when the Chicago Cubs cut him off the payroll. All he did for his new teammates yesterday was to hold the league leaders to two runs.

The Yank sluggers got to Rip Collins early and scored enough runs in the early innings to put Detroit on the short end of a 6 to 1 count.

Champion's Nose Shows It Can Stand Beating

Atlantic City, Aug. 30—(AP)—Jack Dempsey's rebuilt nose was as Grecian as ever today after having been subjected to a terrific battering from three weeks of his training campaign. Some ringersiders have expected the nose to be spread all over his face. Nothing has happened to it.

Dempsey is the least concerned of all over his nose. In fact he has urged his playmates to take a healthy sock at it. Several of them have done just that with no distress to the champion.

The old nose with its broken bridge forced him to breathe through his mouth, a serious handicap to any fighter. With the new one, he has a clear air passage.

CAN'T BEAT "TIZ" WHEN FEET HURT

Just take your shoes off and then put those weary, shoe-crinkled, aching, burning, corn-pestered, bunion-tortured feet of yours in a "Tiz" bath. Your toes will wriggle with joy; they'll look up at you and almost talk and then they'll take another dive in that "Tiz" bath.

When your feet feel like lumps of lead—all tired out—just try "Tiz." It's grand—it's glorious. Your feet will dance with joy; also you will find all pain gone from corns, callouses and bunions.

There's nothing like "Tiz." It's the only remedy that draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up your feet and cause foot torture. A few cents buy a box of "Tiz" at any drug or department store—don't wait. Ah! how glad your feet get; how comfortable your shoes feel.

RACE PROGRAM AT MORRISON IS BEST EVER

Unusually Fine List of Horses Entered in the Events

The Whiteside county fair will open at Morrison tomorrow, Tuesday, Aug. 31, and continue through Friday. Racing is to be a feature of the fair this year and the committee on speed has assembled a fine stable of horses. The majority of the racing stock which appeared at Amboy last week has moved over to Morrison and other entries have come from the Rock Island county fair at Joslin, assuring an ample field of starters. On the opening day, a pace and trot for three year olds and under will feature the card. In addition to these, the annual half mile Farmer Boys' run, the free for all run and the mule race will be held.

There are six events booked for the Wednesday afternoon program, featuring the 2:35 pace and the 2:16 trot. The half-mile former boys run, a one-mile run, a five-eighths of a mile run and a half mile race will also be presented.

Thursday will be the feature day of the week with six events on the race program. The Libby Milk company's stake race in the 2:37 pacing class will be featured. The 2:14 pace and 2:26 trot will complete the harness events. The half-mile former boys run, the half mile run and half mile mule race will also be held. On Friday, the closing day, the Illinois Refrigerator company stake race in the 2:20 trotting class will be held. The 2:20 pace, the half mile former boys run, the one mile run, a half mile run and a half mile mule run will conclude the program for the week.

HECTIC NATIONAL LEAGUE BATTLES ARE ON THIS WEEK

Pirates, Cards, Reds and Cubs at Each Others' Throats

The world champion Pirates with only a half game lead, are engaged in a finish fight this week for National League supremacy. Third place St. Louis yesterday played the Pirates to a tie on the Cardinals' play ground. Aldridge dolled out three hits in the ten inning fray. Alexander, although plastered for ten, kept them scattered. Should the Buccaneers escape unscathed from St. Louis, Cincinnati holding a half game lead over the Cardinals will be at their throats for a single game Thursday. Then come the battling Cubs in a three game series.

Yesterday the Cubs took their eighth straight game, conquering Cincinnati and Carl Mays 5-1.

Brooklyn came back from the west to whip the fallen Giants 6-2. Max Carey had a perfect day at bat. Washington's new pitcher, Crowder, held the Chicago White Sox safe 9-2. A Senator barrage breaking loose in the seventh for eight runs ruined the day for Alphonzo Thomas. Uble copped his 22nd victory of the season in turning back St. Louis for Cleveland 2-1. The Browns were helpless with men on bases, having thirteen left.

The Yanks continued to rip up all contenders by hammering the Tigers for a 6-1 setback. Schoener gave six hits including a homer by Taverer.

Ticket Scalpers Make Appearance in St. Louis

St. Louis, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Ticket scalpers lifted their heads here today as the demand became feverish for admission to tomorrow's double header opening of the "Little World Series" between the Pittsburgh Pirates and the St. Louis Cardinals.

Pittsburgh sits atop the National League standing, while the Cardinals who a few days ago crowded the Pirates out of first place, now rapk third. Several days ago it was announced that the entire park was sold out for Sunday's game. Since then, ticket scalpers gradually have made their appearance. Tickets which ordinarily cost from $1.35 to $1.75 at the ball park were quoted by the scalpers to day at from $5 to $15.

DON JUAN

Novel by INBZ
SABASTIEN

Copyright, 1926, Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc.
"Don Juan," screen play by Bess Meredith, starring John Barrymore, is a Warner Bros. picturization of this novel.

SYNOPSIS
His father's warning—"Take women's love scornfully—and forget!"—has made Juan the world's greatest lover. His cynicism is checked by Madonna-like Adriana Varanese; loving her, he reforms, but incurs the enmity of infamous Lucretia Borgia, who loves him, and Donati, her kinsman, who covets Adriana. The Borgias contrive to have Juan catch Donati in Adriana's room, under circumstances that destroy his faith. Cynical again, he becomes the lover of Lucretia. To save her father, Adriana marries Donati. That handsome man leads her into the bridal chamber.

She could not believe that it was really she who stood there, that she was married to Donati and must face what lay ahead. Surely something would save her from this fate! Her prayers had seemed to be unavailing thus far, but now, when she so desperately needed help, surely it would come!

Donati threw his arms around her, drew her close to him, despite her efforts to draw away. He drew her toward the bed, paused to kiss her on her smooth, white forehead and cheeks, and then on the delicate curve of her throat. He was laughing to himself, gloating over the prize that he had won.

She looked up, met his eyes. They were dilated, and their expression made her cry out in alarm. His lips were parted, moist; his clutching hands were moist and hot, and their touch made her tremble. Never had she seen anything so hideous as his face, never had she known such terror as he aroused.

Her fright amused him. "You cannot escape me now," he told her, triumphantly. "You are Slowly, it became apparent that Juan was the better swordsman.

my wife now, little one, and this is our wedding night." It seemed to her that she was choking, that she could not even cry out again, because the cry would be stifled in her throat. She wanted to scream, wanted to escape, yet knew that even if he released her in that instant her limbs would not support her.

Donati picked her up, carried her toward the bed. There was a movement of his velvet hangings. Juan, a sardonic smile on his lips, stepped from behind them. He stood for a moment as if turned to stone. He seemed hardly to know it when Adriana slipped from his arms.

"We are congenial souls," murmured Juan, advancing a step. "I anticipate a charming evening." With a snarl of rage Donati leaped toward him. Juan, laughing scornfully, drew his sword. Donati flashed in the candle light, and in another moment they were fighting, back and forth over the open spaces of the great room. Donati inspired by rage, Juan cool, malicious, amused even when Donati had him at a disadvantage.

It was at such a moment that Adriana, fearing for the man she loved, screamed his name and a warning: "Juan—be careful!"

The group in the room below caught the words. There was an instant's surprised silence; then, led by Cesare, they streamed up the broad stairs, a colorful line, and into the bedroom.

Cesare, at their head, saw at once what was happening. Amused, he signalled to the others to advance no further.

A woman somewhere behind him laughed softly. "How delightful, to have this added entertainment!" she exclaimed. Others laughed, murmured among themselves. What a spectacle! There were expressions of surprise, discreetly uttered, that this Don Juan, known to be favored by Lucretia Borgia, should be sacrificed thus to make a holiday entertainment. But then, no doubt the beautiful Lucretia had tired of him, and sought thus to rid herself of his presence. And of course Donati would make short work of him! Not one of them suspected the truth. They would not have believed that even the daredevil Juan would defy the Borgias by stealing into their cousin's bridal chamber and attacking him.

Donati grew desperate, his thrusts wilder, blood streaming from the cut made on his cheek by Juan's blade. Juan began to play with him, with a grim humor that earned him the nod of approval from Cesare.

Then, suddenly, it was over. A last mad thrust on Donati's part had endangered Juan, and with a sudden twist and straightening of his arm, he drove his sword through the other's body.

Donati staggered, fell crumpling to the floor. And Juan faced his audience, still smiling. Adriana, sobbing, ran to her father. Cesare gave a curt order to two of the men who stood near him, and they ran forward to seize Juan. He did not try to escape; he had known that this must come, just as he had known that he would kill Donati. Nor did he care.

"Arrest him for the murder of Count Donati!" Cesare ordered. "Throw him into the dungeon of St. Angelo!" Adriana cried out wildly, would have gone to Juan, but her father held her tightly in his arms. A look of resolution came over his face, as she clung to him, sobbing like a frightened child.

"This is our chance to escape forever," he whispered to her. "Go, and wait for me outside the courtyard."

Adriana looked up at him questioning.

"Go!" he repeated, and obediently she took her arms from his neck and turned toward the door. One of Cesare's retainers stepped forward to stop her. Varanese drew his sword, and as the man stepped back Adriana slipped out of the door. Like a frightened bird on the wing she made her way down the stairs, while at the top, fighting valiantly, her father won redemption for the suffering he had cost her.

It could not be a long drawn out fight; he was too old and not strong enough. But the fighting spirit of the Varanese, never very strong in him, came to his rescue, and when at last he fell it was with the knowledge that as a result of that sharp, bitter duel he did not die long.

The sound of the confusion within the palace brought the guards running. They hardly noticed Adriana, who sped past them, pale as the ghost of her own happiness, her wedding veil fluttering about her, her wedding stones dragging on the rough stones of the courtyard.

The strand of pearls about her throat broke, and the jewels went scattering into the shadows. They had been the gift of Lucretia Borgia; Adriana had hated the feeling of their smoothness on her skin, when they were put around her neck earlier in the evening.

She ran, panting with fear, until she was outside the courtyard. Where could she hide? Wildly she stared about her. At any moment the Borgias' soldiers might come to find her—she must escape them, yet must remain near at hand, to be there when her father came.

No far away was a niche in the high wall. She crept into it, huddled there, shivering in the cold night air, to wait for the father who would never come to her again.

In the palace Lucretia stood watching, her face a mask for the emotions that surged through her. The confusion lessened a little. Now she could see Juan, standing there with a soldier, grasping each of his arms. The sword with which he had fought so magnificently lay on the floor at his feet, its blade broken by the ruthless feet of the hirelings who had obeyed Cesare's orders.

The VANITY CASE

by CAROLYN WELLS

by G. P. PUTNAM SONS

BEGIN HERE TODAY

MRS. PRENTISS sees mysterious lights in the Heath household next door one night and the next day Harbor Gardens, Long Island, is agog over the murder of MYRA HEATH and the disappearance of her husband, PERRY.

House guests of the Heaths are LAWRENCE INMAN, heir to Myra's fortune, and BUNNY MOORE, beautiful, vivacious, to whom suspicion points because of her strange actions.

Myra Heath never used cosmetics, never wore colors, yet when her body was found she was heavily rouged. She was a collector of glass, and it was a rare old bottle from her collection that the murderer used to kill her. Candles were burning at her head and feet; nearby was a card marked, "The Work of Perry Heath."

The strange thing about Heath's disappearance is that the windows and doors were locked on the inside the night before and were found that way in the morning. Fingerprints of Bunny and Inman were found on the bottle.

At the Country Club the murder is discussed by SAM ANDERSON, Heath's rival for the club presidency; AL CUNNINGHAM, who is trying to solve the crime, and others. Meanwhile, TUDORHURST BUCK, Mrs. Prentiss' nephew, has met Bunny and fallen in love with her.

Bunny is amazed to get a phone call from Heath. He phones her again, saying, "I am the murderer. Bunny faints under a grilling by DETECTIVE MOTT, and Inman confesses to Buck that he saw Bunny ascending the stairs after the murder. Mott questions all the servants and tells them to keep quiet.

Anderson invites Cunningham to his house and there, while waiting for his host, Cunningham is suddenly confronted by Perry Heath, who disappears as mysteriously as he had appeared. Shortly afterward Anderson comes in.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXXIV

ANDERSON'S voice was lost as he entered the house and made for the dining room. He had pushed Cunningham ahead of him and soon the two were sitting down to a very appetizing chafing dish supper.

"Well, I suppose you want to hear what I did," Anderson said, and paused suddenly as he saw Cunningham staring at him.

So suddenly, that he bit his lip and rising, with a muffled exclamation of pain, he hurried from the room, but was back in a moment.

"Bit my lip," he exclaimed, tenderly patting the bruised place with his table napkin, and resuming his chair. "All right, now, nothing serious. Well, Cunny, I'm like that as much as he expected, and he didn't expect he would. I thought it would be easy to trace Perry Heath through his bankers. But they knew nothing about him at all. They let me see his bank account, though—I felt a mean cur to look at it—and only a day or two before he disappeared, he had received a big check from a man named Crandall. I assumed it was payment for a picture, and I hunted down the Crandall man. That's what took the time, for he lived out in a beastly suburb. Well, I found him, and he had bought one of Perry's pictures, and it was his check. But he knew nothing of Perry. He had bought the picture through Carr and Holden—their Heath's dealers, you know. So I didn't get a bit farther, and I'm disgusted with detective work—my own or anybody else's."

which cause is now pending and undetermined in said court. E. S. ROSECRANS, Clerk. Dixon, Illinois, August 9th, 1926. George J. Jochem, Complainant's Solicitor. Aug. 9-11-23-30

MISTAKE SAVES LIFE Cleveland—Because of an error and a last minute switch in his Pullman accommodations, Philip S. Zipkin is alive and well today. His berth was changed to the left side of the car to accommodate a man and his wife. When the train was wrecked, the couple were hurled through a window and seriously injured.

ACTIVITIES FOR AUGUST UNUSUAL; ASSOCIATION BUSY

Review of Work at Dixon
Y. M. C. A. Shows
Many Events

Although August is a slack month in YMCA work, the local Association has been busier this month than during the same month for several years. An outstanding piece of work has been the employment service rendered to the boys. Many boys have been given work, the large majority of which number were first interviewed and then followed up with a view of securing a permanent job for the work he is most suited for. Work has been found for older boys in college towns which will start this fall and which will assist these boys in working their way through college. Some of these boys could not go to college were it not for this service rendered by the local "Y".

The YMCA Boys' Band, which meets every Monday the year round, has had several contracts and still has one or two for September. The boys gave a free concert during the month which drew a large crowd from Dixon and surrounding country.

Hikes were held for boys when they received training in nature study, health education and camp craft.

The Toastmasters' Club held a most successful picnic at Lowell Park. The success of this men's club has gone far beyond the fondest hopes of the promoters and at least three neighboring cities are planning on organizing a Toastmasters' Club this coming season.

The YMCA Tennis Club completed one tournament during the month and will have another during the month. The boys' band will give a free concert during the month which drew a large crowd from Dixon and surrounding country.

is well started in a second one. The club courts, which are the only ones in the city, are well patronized.

In the Physical Department, a "Learn to Swim Campaign" was conducted with 42 members and all those who attended regularly and faithfully were taught to swim. In all, 31 boys were passed as swimmers. The swimming pool has proved more popular this past month than for a good many months. It is as far ahead of the "Ole Swimm'n' Hole" as the "Ole Swimm'n' Hole" was ahead of the Saturday night tub.

Ladies' day which is Monday of each week, shows that the privileges for women are used by a large number.

The fact that nearly every day many men are turned away who seek rooms and that there is a waiting list of men who wish to room at the "Y" shows that the Dixon Young Men's Christian Association is upholding its place in popularity with the men and boys of the city.

The well-stocked reading room is more and more becoming a place where men of the city drop in for an hour or so during the day or evening to read or to meet their friends.

Band Will Get Ready for Its Next Concert The Boys' Band will meet for their regular practice Monday evening at 7:30. Every boy is asked to be on hand in order that the concert program for next Thursday evening may be gone over.

Second Round of Tennis Tourney on Next Week All members of the YMCA Tennis Club whose names are in the tournament are requested to phone the "Y" office regarding the results for the first round in the tennis tournament. The second round will be played during the first part of next week.

OGLE COUNTY'S FAIR PROMISES TO BE ITS BEST

Promoters Enthusiastic Over Prospects for Next Week

Oregon—Every indication points to one of the highest and best fairs ever held by the Ogle County Association, week after next, September 6-7-8-9-10.

Big exhibits in all departments, concession space being rapidly taken up, race entries coming in, all indicate that the Ogle County Fair this year is going to be a real one.

The local association and the Morrison Fair are the only ones of the Northern Illinois Racing Circuit which filled both $600 stake races. Oregon has eight entries in the 217 stake race to be raced on Monday and fifteen entries in the 220 stake race which is to be raced Thursday. The owner of each horse has already paid three per cent of the amount of the purse in order to compete in the race. The management has assurances of several big herds of cattle and swine, and more interest than usual is being taken in show horses this year and a good string of draft horses can be looked for at the fair.

The free vaudeville and circus acts have been contracted for and present a good, entertaining program, including the Jung Bros. in a comedy acrobatic act of exceptional merit, the DeVos in a pantomime act that is filled with comedy, Durendell in the most thrilling high wire walk in the United States. He walks and performs on a wire stretched from the tops of poles 45 feet high. Anna DeKoven, America's greatest rube comedienne, William's trained pony, dog and monkey circus and Thunderbolt, the world's champion bucking mule, who takes all comers and takes them hard.

Night Show Program.
At the night shows, Monday and Tuesday, a high class program of fireworks furnished by Gordon, pioneer in the fireworks business, will be shown. A number of large set pieces, including such new creations as "The Fighting Roosters," "The Cascades" and others of equal merit will be on the program.

The State of Illinois is bringing a number of fine exhibits among which is a motion picture show, which features points of historic interest in the state, as well as scenes taken in the coal mines in southern Illinois.

The Harry Dreibelhels Amusement Company of Warren, Ill., has contracted space for its Ferris Wheel, Merry-go-round, Merry Mix-up and several shows. Mr. Dreibelhels has made the Ogle County Fair for several years past and always carries a high class outfit. All the old timers, Harry Baker, the Elgin Cream Candy

ABE MARTIN

One thing that makes me think that France understands that she can't get out of payin' is that she's quit speakin' in 't' us. New models come an' go, but they still seem 't' be a lot o' folks who prefer 't' end their days in their present cars.

Warren Mackay of Rockford, the Taffey King, Faust Bros., and many others have their space bought in the concession lines. Black Hawk Grange will again serve meals on the grounds. They enjoyed a large patronage last year and are deserving of the same this year.

For bands, the Association has provided a splendid lot, with Kable Bros. Co., the present 159th Ind. Band of 55 pieces, for Monday (Labor Day) afternoon and night; Wednesday, Oregon 30 piece band, afternoon; Thursday, Dixon T. M. C. A. Boys' Band of 40 pieces, afternoon and night; and for Friday the Rochelle Band of 30 pieces.

Through arrangement with the Ogle County Farm Bureau the Ogle County Boys and Girls Beef Calf Club will exhibit about 20 head of calves which the youngsters have fed and groomed for premiums of $100 and two silver cups which the Fair Association is offering.

HARMON NEWS

Harmon—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schaeffer and son Lowell and Mr. and Mrs. Bud Portner and daughter Miss Clara motored to Sterling Sunday and attended the funeral of Joseph Cox who was buried at that place.

Misses Mildred Delhotel of West Brooklyn and Helen Farley of Dixon spent Sunday at the John Farley home.

A large number from here motored to Amboy Thursday and attended the fair. Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Hersch of Chicago were Friday evening passengers to Sterling to spend a few days with his mother after spending several days here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas P. Long.

Misses Verna Forward of Tampico and Vernie McDermott spent one day last week with the latter's parents here.

Miss Annette O'Connell of Chicago and Mary Leonard motored to Sterling Tuesday on business.

Leroy McDermott returned to his home Monday after being a patient at St. Mary's hospital at LaSalle for the past week.

Thomas Long of Sterling spent a few days last week with his brother Richard and family.

Mrs. Hubert Forrest who has been confined to her bed for the past several days is not improving as rapidly as we would like her to.

Mr. and Mrs. John McDonnell of Tampico are the proud parents of a son born Saturday. Mrs. McDonnell will be remembered at Henrietta McDermott before her marriage. Mother and babe are getting along fine.

George Leonard, wife and Leroy Dumphy motored to Mt. Carroll and spent Sunday.

George Malsey came here from Iowa to attend the funeral of his nephew Joseph Long, which was held at St. Flannan's church Friday morning.

Miss Annette O'Connell of Chicago is visiting this week with her aunt, Miss Mary Leonard.

Mrs. James Harvey of Amboy spent the fore part of the week with her daughter, Mrs. Edward McCormick, who is ill.

Thomas Downs was a business caller in Dixon Saturday.

Mrs. Henry McDermott and daughter Miss Frances motored to Dixon Saturday.

Mary Finkenbender returned to her home in Mendota Sunday after spending a few days here with Anna Swab.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Yonifetz and daughter motored here and spent a few days last week at the George Long and I. H. Perkins homes.

Mrs. Aloise Foster who was operated on for appendicitis at the Dixon hospital the fore part of last week is some better at this writing.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Blackburn are the proud parents of a baby girl born Thursday of last week. Mother and baby are doing nicely.

BEETLE CHEWS ON

Washington—The government has not won the battle against the little black Japanese beetle which attacks shrubs, fruit trees and field crops.

The pest has proved far more injurious in America than in its original home. Efforts to stamp out the beetle in New Jersey and Pennsylvania have failed thus far, but rigid quarantine regulations have gone into effect.

RURAL SCHOOLS HAVE LOST OLD TIME VITALITY

Such is Opinion of ExGov. Frank Lowden; Told in Letter

The officers of the Illinois State Teachers Association find that it is generally agreed that the short term, poor equipped, untrained teachers, insufficient supervision, small attendance, and social isolation of many country schools have so handicapped them that they have failed to keep pace in efficiency with the city and village schools.

Ex-Governor F. O. Lowden, who is conceded to be a leader of thought among farmers, spoke to the annual meeting of the National Education Association at Washington last February. His opinion of the country school situation may be gathered from the following extracts from that address:

"I recall the country school of my early days. It was the center of a genuine community life. The schoolhouse was a simple structure, plain and unadorned. But the country school itself was a different thing from what it is today. There were pupils enough in each district to make the school a vital thing. It was large enough to stimulate group spirit. "How changed the country school of today! The population in the school district, due largely to improving farm machinery, has steadily declined. The country school has therefore lost its old vitality and its old importance in the life of the people. At the same time that the rural school has been undergoing this evolution, the schools of the towns and cities constantly have improved. "The farmer and his wife and their children know of the superiority of the city school over the country school. The time, therefore, has come when we must strive to equalize conditions of living upon the farm and in the towns and cities. We shall be unable much longer to maintain a double standard of living in the United States, as we have in recent years. If the inequalities which now exist shall continue, we shall not longer be able to keep the normal boys and girls on the farm. The trek cityward is already under way. If it shall go on as rapidly as it has in the past five years, the next generation will witness a farm population largely composed of the physically and mentally unfit."

Such expressions as these from a man of Mr. Lowden's standing should arouse Congress to give the farmers a fair chance economically, and our legislature to give their children a fair chance educationally.

BEGGARS' STORE

London—A beggars' headquarters, where tramp outfits could be hired, was discovered the other day in West London. Attention was attracted to the place because a number of men would arrive daily, neatly dressed and leave in shabby attire.

Before you start on your auto trip take out a Dixon Telegraph Accident Insurance Policy.

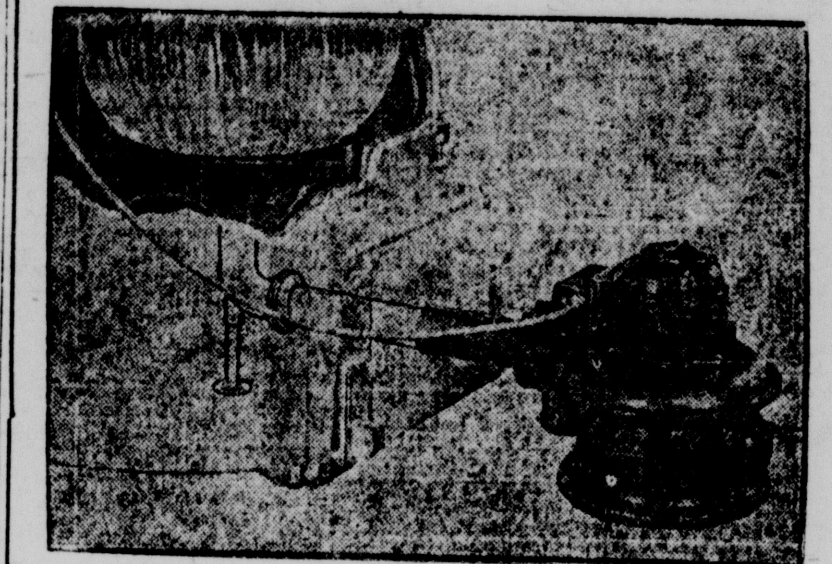

BUGS WRECK TRAIN

Rome—A train was derailed near Sessa recently when a swarm of locusts settled on the railway lines, obscuring a switch. Great clouds of the insects in the district of Caserta hid the sun from view and were like great clouds passing over houses.

The New Dewey Oil Burner

A New Flame of Greater Efficiency
Completely Installed $297.50
Cash or Payments

Completely Automatic
Thermostatically Controlled
Economical in Cost and Operation

THE DEWEY OIL BURNER is the result of four years of extensive research and engineering work, and in its production, we believe we are offering a domestic heat generator of the automatic pressure type that is more economical, both in first cost and in operation. It is completely automatic and is entirely controlled through simple mercury tube switches approved by the underwriters laboratories. It is economical because the power unit is small, but the flame produced is larger and of better combustion. The motor consumes but 60 watts per hour yet the unit is of greater heating capacity than many of twice or three times its size. The total height of the power unit is but 12 inches. The flame is of a new and distinctively efficient type. There is no fire in the center, but all is directed out against the walls of the fire-box, and as the fire-box is placed practically at the grate line, the heating plant receives heat from this bowl shaped flame in the same place as it would from a coal fire. A demonstration will convince you of the superiority of the DEWEY OIL BURNER for domestic applications. May we show you?
